It is an absolute pleasure for me to address each and every reader of "Pharmazine 2023".

Due to extraordinary technological advancements, technology, human progress, and lifestyle have all greatly flourished in the new millennium. Efforts are made by our institution to keep up with the latest Use of technology and globalization to promote a variety of creative and encouraging social and cultural events.

Science is a way of life, not just a subject. A significant revolution in one's life is equivalent to a revolution in science. It involves learning new things, developing strong character traits, and making one's own abilities more marketable. Observing their progress gives students a wonderful sense of pride. Additionally, they are led to believe that they can leap higher and will soon reach the pinnacle of their potential.

Alumni are the true jewel of any university because they represent accomplishment at its highest level. At DYPCOP, we work diligently to foster positive relationships between alumni and students. Shakespeare wrote that experience makes a man. Our youngsters get to benefit from the wisdom of our seniors and fill in the cracks left by their errors. Our goal is to promote Alumni involvement and commitment throughout the rest of their lives. Our institution continues to receive honors thanks to our alumni. The latest initiatives shown by our committee and executive council uplift me. I am incredibly inspired to see the alumni at work.

So as to hasten the development and growth of our institution Being a leader of an institution that upholds ethics and champions "Excellence through education" makes me feel really privileged. regard for morals It gives me tremendous pleasure to contribute to the Annual Alumni Magazine, "Pharmazine-2023".

PRINCIPAL'S DESK

"Knowledge is what we perceive aptly stated, education is what they teach," the saying goes. In today's cutthroat business environment, intelligence and knowledge are not sufficient. Knowledge application is a crucial element of success. One can achieve the pinnacle of success with a focused spectrum, perseverance, hard work, and determination. Without the help of alumni, no institution has ever achieved its full potential.

Alumni are one the key stakeholders and representatives of any institution, and they may best energize the college by undermining morals and ethics with their steam of bursting energy and innovative ideas. Our institution was a little operation a decade ago, but today's graduates are widely dispersed over the world in search of learning, growth, and knowledge, and their contributions are felt all over the world. We have established a website to help students and alumni connect.

The committee has been working hard over the years to make the annual alumni gathering and the Pharmazine a huge success. "Wheels start rolling week ago," they say. The creation of Pharmazine was a collaborative effort that included dedication and hard work.

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

Dr. Shubhangi Daswadkar

Warmest regards to you all! I really believe that the Pharmazine will reunite us all. We are excited to establish a large alumni base and to communicate with graduates from other disciplines. The Alumni Association acts as a bridge between the alumni and the college and attempts to promote and cultivate connection among alumni, teachers, and current students. The alumni may have a significant impact on students' direction and program design.

It is a significant initiative that aims to improve the relationship between alumni and the institute, inform them of what is happening at our college and give them the chance to offer insightful feedback, as well as consider the role and activities of association. It should be kept in mind that the alumni association relies on their support and looks forward to their increased involvement. I sincerely hope that we can continue to organize the convention on a regular basis and further cement the connection between alumni and Alma Mater.

Jay Tatiya
President, Working Committee

We have always been striving hard to foster relations and strengthen bonds between Alumni and institution. It is indeed my earnest desire to bring them closer through this medium. Alumni and students together serve as the most significant stakeholders of the college. This interaction proves fruitful to all of us in many ways and encourages us to face upcoming challenges in this profession. The long list of our distinguished alumni has always galvanized the youth in a positive direction for the development of society. The magazine is a reflection of what our alumni are!! extend my gratitude to the college and Alumni Association for their consistent support and guidance. Congratulations to the entire committee for the success of the alumni magazine. Lastly, I thank all alumni who have been the part and parcel of the previous meets and heartily invite all of them and new ones for Alumni-2023

The Alumni connections and through institutes initiatives this committee is conducting annual meets, and interactions and keeping the DYPCOP community connected.

Pranav Shevkar
Secretary, Working Committee

'Alumni' engender feeling of ginormous happiness in all faculties as well as college management. I'm sure that the experience of alumni will surely foster professional growth of our all upcoming batches. As secretary of working committee, I will try my best to make out maximum value out of this venture for student's growth ahead. Lastly I extend my gratitude towards college and Alumni association for having me on board & I assure that this Pharmazine-2023 will be dazzling gem

ALUMINI INTERACTION

SOUMYA KAGATI

Greetings and good wishes to everyone reading this message! It is a proud moment for me, Soumya Kagati, a successful alumni of Dr. DY. Patil College of Pharmacy to contribute to this magazine and share my experiences with you all. Having been 2 years by now that I graduated from DYPCOP, it just feels yesterday. It so happened that Yugal Oswal, one of the star students of the college, happened to message me one day saying that he would require an article from me for the alumni magazine. It made me feel nothing less than a part of the college even today just as then.

Having spent 4 years full of life at DYPCOP, I had plans just like many other students to do a management degree and get along with the corporate flow. But not always you end up in flow with your plans. Grades are not where you put a full stop to, you need to shape yourself to the fullest with confidence, knowledge and courage. Having the dreams to be your own ruler, one of the building blocks to be an entrepreneur was to do my masters abroad. I successfully managed to get into one of the leading universities in Australia, Monash University, Melbourne. I am currently pursuing my masters in International business. Not to forget the professors of our college, without them this wouldn't have been possible. We were exposed to many informative sessions by Ms. Shubhang Jadhav, the constant drilling to get us close to perfection and lots of love and support. Nothing is really right or wrong, it's all about how you do it and strike your goal.

Trust me the grass always seems greener on the other but also trust me the college has lots to give you, whereas it's all up to you how you make use of it. Being an alumni of Dr. D.Y. Patil college of pharmacy, I wish goodluck to all the current students and in the years to come and it's an order to keep up the college as high as always. Have fun, an amazing future and keep showing off your talent!

SANKET KULKARNI

Life is a journey, it's not where you end up but how we got there."

I am Sanket Kulkarni, Marketing Manager, Bayer. My journey of success and wisdom began at DYPCOP. "guru gobind deu khade kake lagu paye, balihari guru apne gobind diyo milay" I entered the college as a shy and a timid kid, and sooner with the help of extra ordinary infrastructure, facilities and exemplary faculties; transferred into a smart, witty and foresighted person. As they say

College days are the best part of life, my experience with this college holds it true. My experience at DYP has been overwhelming and truly inspiring. It has been a sheer contributor towards my personality over the past few years, college life taught me to sharpen my skills and to deal with difficulties without being petrified.

Your success should not make you proud it should make you polite your polite effective communication would play a vital role in your triumphs. Always believe "nothing is impossible" While going through all these changes, take a moment to look back and see how far you have come. It will give you a vision to how far your faith can leap. Achieve your goal but don't open it up, because achievers don't mention what they have achieved in life after achieving your goal you should realize that the society has played a crucial role by supporting you and accepting your choices. Success and failures are a part and parcel of our lives. We should not let our hopes get scattered due to some petty issues or failures, as they rightly stated "failures are the stepping stones to success."

A salute to all teachers of this great institute, because of whom we are here today." Start to aim high and think big" Last but not the least always face challenges, don't run away from them. Just remember "WHATEVER YOU DO WILL BE SIGNIFICANT, BUT IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT YOU DO IT Best of luck for your future Pours!

SVARSHA PHIRKE

A journey of thousand miles begins with single step. I still remember the night before my first day of college where all my family members told me that "Tomorrow is the first day of what you will become." When I was first enrolled here at DYPCOP, I never thought I would ever be in the position to be writing such a blog for college magazine.. My journey begins with DYPCOP where I have spend the most crucial years of my college life perusing D.pharm, B.Pharm and then M.Pharm. (QAT) (2008-2015).Getting this far in college was not easy, it took encouragement from family, dedication, and assistance from teachers to reach this position. I believe that every person I meet in my life have in some way transformed me.

The molecule designing and drug development play the root part in the cycle of product formation. At the primary stage, the molecule is designed and it undergoes various stages of clinical research. The stages include toxicity check, efficacy check, and post marketing surveillance. The molecule passes through toxicity check, the process of efficacy check starts. The drug is passed through various levels of efficacy studies on subject. During these stages of trial, the history of the subject is maintained; since the subject enters the trial till the trial ends or the death of the subject, whichever is earlier. The history being raw data, the data is cleaned and is managed by the clinical data management team.

MITALI MANKAR (2017)

The best and the most beautiful thing's in the world cannot be seen or even touched, they must be felt with our heart says Hellen Keller and apart to describe my journey with DYPCOP its not just the college, but an emotion hard to summarize but yet to mesmerise! It gives me an immense pleasure to allocate remembrance with all my friends and the readers of pharmazine 2018. DYPCOP & NSS has been a great contributor towards my personality over the past.

Few years, though studies were the only focus we had but it has also discovered my interest towards several skills which each and every individual have inbuilt in themselves.I would also like to share my heartfelt gratitude towards the sessions of Barclays which was arranged during our final year which not only helped us to groom our interview skills but also helped me to develop As a person. This sessions really provided me with immense knowledge that assisted me to crack those tough interview sessions.

This entire writeup would be incomplete if I don't thank Dr. Shubhagi Daswadkar ma'am who was my constant supporter and welwisher throughout my journey at DYPCOP. Thank you ma'am for all your good wishes & love that you gave me as my superior MOM. I LOVE YOU!! Last but not the least I'll also thank all the alumni committee members for giving me opportunity as well as this platform to share my gratitude and emotions towards all the members who were the part of my journey. I wish everyone a very bright future ahead, best of luck, lots of love to all my friends and tons of respect to all my staff members....

ALUMINI INTERACTION

ROHIT UTTARWAR

I Still remember my first day of DYPCOP, I was petrified due to the huge college infrastructure new faces & the enthralling crowd. After a while, I adjusted myself & the teachers gave me confidence & moral support. DYPCOP is the most amazing place. It transformed not only in my career but also in my overall personality. This is the place where I have improved my confidence level to an extent to survive in this competitive world. With exciting opportunity in pharma and research, was introduced to the exciting generic world of pharma.

Briefly, Generic Formulation designing and product formation is the cycle of product development and research. At the primary stage literature search is to be done using retrieval sites for API, patent, monograph, dissolution method and impurity profile followed by active sourcing, active material testing. Purchasing after finalization of source of active material and Compatibility study of active with excipients. Next stage involve innovator identification, innovator testing and purchasing.

Once the Active and innovator gets finalized, trial batches and lead formula finalization along with container closure specification and manufacturing process, analytical evaluation is to be done.

So overall Dr DY Patil college of Pharmacy has been a blessing in form for guiding me properly to achieve my desired dream and enhanced my personality which has helped me a lot in this journey and will surely help in the upcoming future.

PRATIK CHUTTAR

This college has made me what I am today. I came to know my qualities and potentials and most importantly the inside me. I was given with a big responsibility as General Secretary of the college. That was the most memorable day of my life because it helped me to inculcate both managerial and leadership skills which is how I chose my post-graduation in Management. I am ever thankful to DYPCOP, because my future has its base started right from this place.

RAHUL RAUT

I am currently pursuing my graduate degree in Analytical Chemistry at University of Calgary, Calgary, Canada. My education journey in D.Y. Patil College of Pharmacy laid a strong foundation for my future aspirations. The conducive learning environment and focused teaching by the faculty members gave an opportunity for everyone. To grow in whatever field they choose to be I am pretty sure that the institute will make profound impact in the pharmaceutical education field and support quality students through quality education. Best wishes!
